Dear Mr. Donohue,

I'm a reporter with Streetsblog, the transportation news website. I'm sorry to get you involved in this -- we always rely on your work -- but in our reporting on the Prospect Park West bike lane, we came across an e-mail exchange between you and Iris Weinshall on October 21, 2010. In that exchange, you told Weinshall that you'd talk to your editor to "make sure there's a few kicks at the freewheelers" in a story about the bike lane. I just wanted to check in with you and see if you could let me know whether you in fact talked with your editors and what was said.

I appreciate the help.

Best,
Noah
